Notes 'N' News from Gail Meyers

We are sending speedy recovery wishes to Rosie Flowers, who is recovering from knee replacement surgery. It has also come to my attention that Dianna Skibinski is recently recovering from surgery also. Get well quickly ladies, we want to see you both in the ring at our Specialty in October!

I'm sure by now you have all seen that commercial on TV about the truck pulling a horse trainer with the horse having his head out of the window enjoying the wind rush over his face, thru his teeth, and his mane just flying away in the breeze. It has a caption that "now you know why dogs do this." BUT...do you know why dogs, horses or even people, shouldn't do this? While it may be loads of great fun to have the wind rush over your face, unless you are wearing eye protection, there is nothing to protect eyes from the very small, irritating particles that are in the air from flying in the eye. Not only is this irritating, but if the particle is a bit larger, it can cause damage to the eyes. And eyes are not replaceable. Not to mention that if your dog is not strapped into the car in some fashion, if it sees a rabbit, cat, etc., it could jump from the moving car, and do damage to legs and body, not to mention, maybe getting killed in the process. So, unless your beloved pet is willing to wear a motorcycle helmet with an eye screen on it or even sunglasses, please think twice about letting them stick their heads out of the moving car window. At least, that's how I see it.

Until next time, stay well and stay happy.
Gail Meyers
